

VCare Medicines has immense experience in the pharmaceutical and healthcare related industries. Our clients are biopharmaceutical, cosmetics, nutraceutical and allied healthcare companies primarily based in the USA and India.

We have extensive experience in market research, product launch and commercialization which includes the distribution, sales and marketing of generic and branded products in India and USA. We specialize in an extremely cost-effective approach and methodology to product launch and commercialization activities.

We also specialize in finding partners for distribution, sales and marketing and can represent companies as their distributor in India.

Through our partners in the USA and India, we have served as FDA agent for pharmaceutical companies and have advised on product development activities, including product selection, procedures for development, reports, bioequivalence pilots as well as full studies conducted in US and India. We specialize in technology transfer of various products for our clients into and outside USA.

We are also actively involved in assisting various firms in FDA compliance activities including functioning as the primary FDA agent for some manufacturing and API firms.

Through our affiliate operations we can also provide filing and regulatory service assistance at all levels and all documents to FDA.
